

The winds of change are blowing at Enmac - We are Prevas Oy from November 26, 2024 on!

In July 2024, the Swedish stock exchange company Prevas Ab bought 92% of Enmac Oy's parent company NMAC Group Oy, while the remaining ownership remains with the company's management. Now we can proudly say that we have joined a Nordic group employing 1100 professionals, which has offices in Sweden, Finland, Norway, and Denmark.

For this reason, we have decided to change the name of our business company Enmac Oy to Prevas Oy and to continue our integration as part of a wider entity.

This decision brings the following changes to our operations on from November 26. on:

1. Our name changes and we become Prevas Oy
2. Our bank connection and billing information will change, we will inform you about this later
3. The e-mail addresses of our staff will change (first.name.surname@prevas.fi)
4. The website can be found from 26.11 at www.prevas.fi

There will be no changes to the following at this stage:

1. Our business ID remains the same
2. The addresses of our offices remain the same

As a engineering and consulting organization, we offer an even wider range of expert services for different industries. We offer:

- Product development, design and system deliveries
- Development of processes and production
- Moving to and supporting industrial digitization and applying artificial intelligence

We strive to combine our expertise regardless of national borders so that it serves our customers in the best way. Our goal is to utilize the potential of the entire Nordic group in our projects as much as possible!

If you have any questions or want to hear more about the changes, please contact our CEO Juha Ritala on 045 657 9213 or your local contact person.

Sincerely,

Juha Ritala
